

Everyday Materials Science Champion

further developed their knowledge about everyday materials by asking questions, observing, classifying, performing tests and recording data to help answer questions. They did this by successfully thinking, talking, testing and recording like a scientist.

Congratulations!

